MONTANA CONSERVATION EASEMENT CONFERENCE FOR LEGAL, FINANCIAL AND REAL ESTATE PROFESSIONALS

July 2017

Greetings,

The 2017 Montana Conservation Easement Conference for Legal, Financial, and Real Estate Professionals will be the most complete and most informative of any conservation easement conference of its type in Montana.

The conference, set for Friday, Sept. 29, in Bozeman at the GranTree Inn, features an impressive array of instructors who are recognized state and national leaders in their areas of expertise. (See Conference Faculty document.)

Continuing education credits for the conference have been approved by:

- Montana Board of Realty Regulation for 8 Continuing Education Credits
- The Montana Bar Association for 7.25 CLE Credits
- A certificate for Continuing Professional Education (CPE) for Certified Public Accountants will be distributed at the conference.

The conference is focused on providing accurate, relevant, current and factual information about Montana property rights and conservation easements, so the audience of financial professionals – real estate professionals, CPAs, attorneys, financial consultants, appraisers and others – have dependable information, answers, contacts and resources for their customers, clients and the public.

A wealth of information about the conference is provided through links from the Montana Association of Land Trusts website, including conference registration, conference agenda, information about the conference faculty and their instruction content, information about conference sponsorship and much more.

The registration cost for the conference is $200. A small block of rooms is reserved for conference registrants at the GranTree Inn at $152 through August 25. To reserve a room call the GranTree Inn at 406-587-5261. Motels near the conference include the Days Inn & Suites, Comfort Inn and Holiday Inn, all located near Seventh and Oak in Bozeman.

For more conference information contact Glenn Marx at 406-490-1659 or at montanamalt@q.com.
